

CAMILLE BERG

CONSULTANT AND RESEARCHER

"Extraordinary leaders envision new possibilities and reflect the diversity of their communities. I am honoured to be part of Arlington's innovative and engaging process for connecting organizations with individuals to inspire and enact positive change. It is my belief that a warm, collaborative environment is core to Arlington and key to helping organizations and individuals explore their potential. Arlington's emphasis on creating this type of environment for all our clients is just a part of what sets us apart."

Camille Berg is a Consultant and Researcher at Arlington Partners International providing integrated support to Arlington's leadership team as well as coordinating projects to deliver the highest calibre research foundation and client service. Camille is responsible for supporting a wide range of practice areas including Financial Services, Media and Entertainment, Legal, board, Healthcare, Non-Profit and Academia and supports searches across all industry sectors, globally.

Camille is passionate about diversity and inclusion strategy and policy in all facets of business operations, capitalizing on diversity as a catalyst for corporate success. Camille also supports the research and editing initiatives of Arlington's magazine. ARLINGTON is an annual magazine distributed globally to our network providing thought leadership and insights into key business and governance issues. It highlights leaders who are making an inspirational mark and difference in their industry sectors, organizations and communities on both sides of the border and beyond.

Prior to joining the Arlington team, Camille worked in a human resources capacity at Humber College. Camille earned her Bachelor of Arts from Western University and completed a postgraduate certificate in Human Resources Management from Humber College. Camille is also an active member for the Human Resources Professional Association (HRPA).
