

MADELINE GERBIG

SENIOR MANAGER, OPERATIONS AND PROJECT COORDINATION

“Extraordinary leaders envision new possibilities and reflect the diversity of their communities. I am honoured to be part of Arlington’s innovative and engaging process for connecting organizations with individuals to inspire and enact positive change. It is my belief that a warm, collaborative environment is core to Arlington and key to helping organizations and individuals explore their potential. Arlington’s emphasis on creating this type of environment for all our clients is just a part of what sets us apart.”

Madeline Gerbig is the Senior Manager Operations and Project Coordinator at Arlington Partners International. She enthusiastically provides highly professional production, coordination, research and administrative support for the firm, ensuring a personalized, engaging experience for all clients and candidates. She is a strong operations and research professional who thrives in high growth environments supporting growing businesses.

At Arlington, Madeline is responsible for all administrative activities in all areas of Board, CEO and Senior Executive Search, Talent Management and Board Advisory services. She also supports key client and Arlington program initiatives and the development of Arlington’s magazine. ARLINGTON is an annual magazine distributed globally to our network providing thought leadership and insights into key business and governance issues. It highlights leaders who are making an inspirational mark and difference in their industry sectors, organizations and communities on both sides of the border and beyond.

Madeline is committed to protecting client privacy and confidentiality and has a track record of delivering exceptional client service. She has rich experience working in public libraries in both the United States and Canada. While serving as Information Services Librarian at the Welland Public Library, Madeline was instrumental in ensuring smooth operations during a challenging period of organizational growth and change.

Prior to joining Arlington Partners, Madeline worked at the University of Toronto’s Dentistry Library, the only free-standing dental library in Canada and part of Canada’s top-ranked library system. Madeline earned her Honours Bachelor of Arts in English Literature and Writing from Ithaca College, NY and graduated from the University of Toronto with a Master of Information in Library and Information Science.
